Customer Reviews

I'm an elementary school teacher in North Carolina, with no link to the Evan-Moor company. I've used the Daily Reading Comprehension with students in 3rd through 5th grade. I think they're wonderful, and will continue to use them almost daily. But look at that price! The list is $29.99, so why is this company charging $37.99 + $10 shipping? Outrageous.
This workbook has daily activities, varied in length and type of response, to help students learn more about comprehension and the skills needed to be an effective reader. The book is a good resource for review, for working with special needs students, and practicing for any one of the national or state tests that are given each year.

Great product. It’s helped my child prepare for the Virginia SOLs. My straight A student child uses this book daily as a supplement to his public school work. It's done wonders to improve my child’s reading comprehension.

It fits my gifted kids pretty well. Easy to manage. Some problems are little harder than a usual school problem. But those problems are great! My kid’s reading level improved from 90% to 98% after using this book.

I ordered this to use in my classroom next school year, but I have used it in tutoring this summer. It is a great resource to have and I love that the passages are short and there are four multiple choice questions and one “think about it” question.

Bought for my 13 year old for summer review. These are her thoughts: "I didn’t really like it because it feels like a bunch of readings thrown together without an idea of how to better my reading comprehension. The readings were interesting. The level is appropriate."

Perfect daily practice in bite-size. Cross my fingers- my child has not complained yet :0) My 5th grader seems to enjoy it.

Daily Reading Comprehension has proven to be a welcome warm up and reteaching tool for my students. I use the exercises for my lower level 6th graders for reteaching skills. Very good tool for teachers, ready to go, just copy, pass to students, show and share responses on overhead/Elmo/Smartboard.
